Our City comment & discussion by THOMAS D. WATSON

Non-Parking Areas Are Plainly Defined by the City Now

THE curbs in the non-parking areas in Glendale are being painted a bright red. So are the fire plugs. This probably means that as soon as this work is completed the parking spaces will be renewed.

When this is accomplished it will be up to the citizens to co-operate to the extent of not parking their cars in the non-parking areas and using care when parking at the proper angle.

* * *

A citizen has no excuse for grumbling over being tagged for non-observance of the traffic laws when the city officials have done their part. We have said several times that if the police departments of the different cities would endeavor to assist in the observance of traffic laws instead of welcoming a violation in order to make an arrest fewer accidents would be recorded.

* * *

SEVERAL of the towns surrounding the city of Los Angeles as well as Los Angeles itself have intimated that they would fight the Breed law, holding it unconstitutional.

This law does away with the speed trap, which we think is a good thing and should be accepted as such. Traffic laws are enacted not for the purpose of providing additional funds to a city treasury but for the sole purpose of cutting down the number of accidents.

* * *

THE patroling of the highways and streets by the traffic officer instead of hiding in an alley or side street will do away with a large percentage of the speeders. We are of the opinion that large signs should also be erected wherever any change in speed is desired. There is no doubt but that a city loses much more by the arrest for trivial reasons of a citizen or visitor who unintentionally breaks a traffic law than any good they may secure through the expenditure of the sum collected.

ACCORDING to announcement made yesterday Hill Drive in Eagle Rock is to be opened up at the east end. The opening will be on Colorado boulevard. The west limits running into Hill Drive, Glendale, which continues on to Sycamore Canon road.

The opening of this road means a lot to both Eagle Rock and Glendale for without doubt it will become a favorite drive for tourists.

There is no more scenic drive in Los Angeles and vicinity than Hill Drive in Eagle Rock. The Glendale part of the road is as yet new territory and it is to be hoped that the builders of homes in this section of Glendale will carry out improvements on a par with those of Eagle Rock.

Falls From Motor Truck; Uninjured

J. E. Davis, 702 West Forty-fifth street, Los Angeles, was slightly injured when he fell from a motor truck at the corner of Verdugo road and Broadway, Wednesday afternoon. He was taken to the Glendale sanitarium by Officer Armer, where it was found that no bones were broken, although there were bruises about the head and shoulders.

ALLEGED GROCERY MEN FINED FOR SELLING BOOZE

Police Raid Results in Arrest of I. R. Allen and L. J. Sable

I. R. Allen and L. J. Sable, who police report, recently purchased a grocery at the corner of Glendale avenue and Wilson, were each fined $250 by Judge Lowe Wednesday for violation of the city's liquor ordinance. Each man was fined $100 for having liquor in his possession for the purpose of sale, and $150 for selling liquor. The fines, totaling $500 were paid.

Allen and Sable were arrested on July 14 when their place of business was raided by Chief Fraser and several of his officers, according to the police department. A trifle over one gallon of liquor was found in the store. The liquor has been destroyed.

PRESIDENT SPEAKS TO CANADIANS

First Visit of Chief Executive to Canada's Soil

TELLS OF FRIENDSHIP

Points to Way Europe May Heal Its Hatred and Suspicion

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 26.—President Harding in an address made during his visit here today at 11 o'clock—the first visit ever made by an American president to Canada—pointed to the century old friendship between the people of Canada and the people of the United States as proof to the nations of Europe that public will rather than public force is the key to international peace.

"It is public will, not public force, that makes for enduring peace," he told his audience of Canadians gathered in Stanley Park. "And is it not a gratifying circumstance that it has fallen to the lot of us North Americans, living for more than a century under different flags, to present the most striking example yet produced of that basic fact? If only European countries would heed the lesson conveyed by Canada and the United States, they would strike at the root of disagreements, and in their own prosperity forget to inveigh constantly at ours." With his emphasis upon the long friendship between Canada and the United States, Mr. Harding coupled advice to the people of the Dominion to guard against giving encouragement "to any enterprise looking to Canada's annexation to the United States."

"Let us go our own gaits along parallel roads, you helping us and we helping you," he added.

Mr. Harding at the outset alluded to his visit being the first ever made by a president of the United States to Canada to a term of office and with the exception of President Wilson's visit to Europe, the first on any politcally foreign soil.

BARGAINS CONTINUED TO SATURDAY

Overwhelming Demand for Goods Requires Extension of Sales

On account of an unprecedented large number of shoppers patronizing Glendale's first real Dollar Day several of the merchants were unable to wait on many of the customers. For this reason many of the stores will continue to carry bargains the rest of the week.

Every employe of every store was turned to the work of serving the people. No other work could be done.

Bookkeepers became salesmen. Stenographers were enlisted. The bargains were in abundance and the values remarkable. Those who visited the stores in the morning reported to their neighbors at home and fresh crowds began to appear.

From the roads leading to the city came lines of automobiles with more trade. Eagle Rock sent quota and the Canyon sent a stream of people.

Some who could not be waited upon, although recruits to the store forces were numerous, left without what they had come to buy. These can be accommodated tomorrow and Saturday at most of the stores who advertised in the Glendale Daily Press yesterday.

The sale from a demonstration of selling ability was turned into a remarkable demonstration of buying and the merchants by extending some of the bargains of today are bowing to the demand.

VILLA MURDER HATCHED IN L. A.?

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Francisco (Pancho) Villa, Mexico's picturesque bandit chieftain, was killed as the result of a political plot to murder him, hatched in Los Angeles, it is charged in a statement received here today from the International Association for Advancement of Religious and Political Liberty of New York.

Villa was slain last Friday near Parral.

Mae Murray Hostess At Hollywood Saturday For Glendale Children

Mr. Tucker is arranging for the children to gather at 3 o'clock on the high school grounds where it is expected there will be plenty of autos to convey them to the bowl.

All persons willing to use their autos for this purpose are asked to report to Mr. Tucker.

FIGHT FANS CALLED TO THE PRESS

Biggest Crowd in Glendale Expected to Be Assembled Tonight at 6 o'Clock

The biggest crowd in the history of newspaper enterprise is expected to gather before the Press building tonight, beginning at 6 o'clock, to hear the returns from the great battle of the featherweights in the Yankee Stadium.

At great expense, using the Associated Press ringside wire, the Glendale Daily Press will give the contest round by round, just as it occurs in New York, simultaneous with events there.

The contest will start at 10 o'clock, daylight saving eastern time, which is 6 o'clock coast time, for New York is still fooling itself out of an hour of night life, so that the time elapsed will be about four hours.

WHY FOLKS LEAVE TEXAS THESE DAYS

[By Associated Press]

DALLAS, Texas, July 26.—Nobody in Texas slept under blankets last night.

The night seemed as hot as the day before and today seemed about to repeat such roaring temperatures of yesterday as 110 at Wichita Falls, 108 at Temple and Marshall, 107 at Paris, 106 at Gainesville, 105 at Texarkana, 104 at Fort Worth and Waco, and 103 at Austin and Dallas. Most of these figures were records for the year.

VAN NUYS MAN FAILS TO SHOW UP FOR TRIAL

J. F. Collins of Van Nuys, who was arrested at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by Officer Baugh, on a charge of reckless driving, according to the police department, failed to put in an appearance at the time set for his preliminary hearing this morning. The $300 bail money which was put up by Collins was turned over by Judge Lowe to the city controller. Believing that Collins, who was, according to the police department, under the influence of liquor when arrested, was unable physically to be present, Judge Lowe did not declare the bail forfeited but asked that the controller hold it pending Collins' appearance.

YOUTH IS SENT TO JAIL; STOLE FROM PARENTS

C. Lamphear, 18 years old, of Glendale, who was arrested on a charge of stealing $300 from his parents on July 11, was held by Judge Lowe to appear before the superior court. His bail was fixed at $1000 cash or $2000 property bond, and being unable to provide either of these he was taken to the county jail.

SEWER PLAN IS WORKING OUT IN L. A.

So Says That City's Attorney in Letter to Mayor Robinson

HOPES FOR THE BEST

Many Things to Be Settled Beside Construction, He Indicates

That City Attorney Stephens of Los Angeles is hard at work on the proposed contract between Glendale and Los Angeles in relation to the sewer problem is shown in a letter that was received by Mayor Robinson of Glendale this morning. This communication, which was signed by Attorney Jess E. Stephens, reads as follows:

"Confirming my telephone conversation of yesterday, I desire to state that I am attempting to work out a draft of a proposed contract between the city of Glendale and the city of Los Angeles for the construction of a main sewer line to connect with our new outfall now under construction. I have had several conferences with members of my own staff and with the engineers in charge of sewer work, and hope that I may have a draft ready very soon. There are a number of intricate problems of both a legal and engineering character which must be worked out. I am not yet in a position to say positively that the two cities can make a contract which will be fair to both and which will be enforceable as well as practical; because it involves the assumption by Los Angeles of this extremely important municipal function for another municipality, where it has neither the taxing power nor the police power. Such a contract is in its nature permanent, and must anticipate conditions so far in the future that it is no easy problem to provide for them in an equitable and yet enforceable manner. However, I am hopeful that we may solve the problem. It was my understanding that you desired me to submit a proposed draft to Mr. Mattison B. Jones so that he might examine it from your standpoint. This I hope to do within a very few days."

ST. MARK'S WILL IMPROVE THE CHURCH HOME

To Accommodate the Increasing Congregation; Will Enlarge

After careful consideration, the officials and membership of St. Mark's parish have decided to enlarge their present church building to accommodate their increased congregation instead of building a new church. They feel the future is uncertain and the present site may not be what they will want for their permanent edifice.

A. B. Benton, a recent appointee to the Art Commission of Los Angeles, has been selected as the architect to prepare plans for the enlarged church, to which will be added a north and a south wing. Besides his record as architect of many of the large buildings of Los Angeles, Mr. Benton has specialized to some extent on Episcopal churches and recently designed the same kind of an addition for St. Athanasius church in the Echo Park district of Los Angeles.

The ground surrounding St. Mark's is to be planted to lawn, shrubs and flowers, and vines will be set to clamber over the walls.

ALLEGED PHONEY CHECK KITER ARRESTED

E. W. Thede Is Charged With Cashing $2.50 Paper; Held for Trial

E. W. Thede of Glendale, was arrested by Officer Brewster, Wednesday, the charge against him being the passing of a worthless check for $2.50, according to the police department. He had his preliminary hearing before Judge Lowe yesterday. His bail was set at $500, which was furnished by his father. He will appear for trial at 10 a. m. on August 1.

DOLLAR DAY GOES OVER BIG TODAY

Crowded Stores Best Evidence of Interest in Offerings

Seldom have the downtown streets of Glendale been graced with the presence of as many women, young and old, as were seen this morning in response to the advertisements which the Glendale Press published yesterday of dollar day bargains. The early comers had made a survey and done considerable window shopping. Later they were to be seen carrying bundles. Before 9 o'clock, the hour at which many stores had announced they would open their doors, crowds were packed in front of the places of merchandise reaching clear across the sidewalk.

One of the best features of the community event was the universal expression of satisfaction expressed by all who had made investments, and the courtesy shown each other and the clerks who served them. There was no "fighting mob" such as has often been seen at Los Angeles stores when special sales have been advertised, but the response was there all right both on the part of the merchant and the patrons.

It was very evident this morning that confidence in these dollar day bargains is growing because of the good faith with which the Glendale merchants are living up to the representations made in advertisements.

NEWTON ELECTRIC DEFEATED BY CITY EMPLOYES' TEAM

Cheered by a crowd which numbered 75 baseball fans, a close and enthusiastic game was played Wednesday night on the high school campus between the Newton Electrics and the City Employes' team, the city winning with a score of 33 to 21.

These two teams are now tied. Each has another game to play and if both win, they will be matched for the championship. It was a fast and closely fought contest.

Tonight the Legion team plays the Jesse Smith Fords.

S. P. PARK DEPOT COST PROHIBITIVE

Realty Board Finds It Would Involve $260,000 for the Lots

REJECT THE PROJECT

Twining Comments on Defense of Telephone Co. Service

By ALBERT MARPLE

That the average price asked by the property owners on the south side of Gardena, which the committee from the chamber of commerce proposes be purchased for park purposes around the Southern Pacific depot, is $8,825, and that at this rate the cost of the thirty lots involved would be about $260,000, was the report made to the Glendale Realty Board at its meeting Wednesday by Realtor Schuyler, who, with Realtors Bolen and Wende was chosen as a committee to look into this matter. The matter of the Realty Board endorsing the purchase of these lots was brought up at the last meeting of the board, and at that time, on motion of W. L. Twining, it was decided to appoint a committee to go into this matter before any endorsements were given.

"This report," stated Mr. Twining after the statement of the committee was given, "shows the wisdom of the board looking into any proposition before endorsing it. Where's the fellow who says this property could be purchased for $100,000? This thing is a good proposition for the board to let alone."

On motion of Mr. Twining and second of James W. Pearson, the report was accepted.

When reporting on the telephone proposition, Mr. Twining commented on the defense made by Mr. Fred Deal, local manager of the telephone company, with regard to the telephone service in Glendale, and stated that his committee would have a meeting this week and that a report would be ready for the next meeting of the board.

On the matter of the particulars concerning the parade to be afforded President Harding, Mr. Twining stated he will give a full report at the next meeting.

W. L. Truitt, chairman of the committee on the amending of the present mechanics lien law, stated that he had secured a copy of the mechanics lien law of Ohio and that it contained the provisions desired by the local board. This law, he stated, has been in service for the past eight years and has given universal satisfaction.

Dr. Jessie A. Russell, who was a delegate from the local Realty Board to the national convention of realty boards held in Cleveland a short time ago, gave a supplementary report of the doings of the convention. She suggested that seven subjects, which were taken up and thoroughly discussed at the convention, be discussed at the summer meetings of the board. These included highways, building loans, parks, zoning, taxation, insurance loans and subdivisions. A committee of three was ordered appointed for the purpose of preparing these programs as outlined by Dr. Russell.

On motion of J. W. Pearson, it was decided to request that the local newspapers publish the transfers of realty in the city of Glendale, as was formerly done, with the exception of the fact that no mention be made of the various mortgages and trust deeds taken out by residents and property owners of the city.

It was decided to hold the next meeting of the board at the Egyptian cafe, in the Jensen building.

BOYS DISAPPEAR FROM GLENDALE RESIDENCES

Four Are Now Missing and Police Are on Their Trails

Two other Glendale boys were reported missing, Wednesday, this making four that have disappeared in the past two days, only one of which has, up to this time, been located.

George Linge, 439 Hawthorne, has been missing, according to the police department, since yesterday morning. He is 11 years old and sells the Examiner in Glendale.

W. G. Bird, 556 South street, reported to the police yesterday that his boy, aged 14, has been missing since Tuesday morning.

Neither of these boys have been located, according to the police department.

TRILLION MARKS NOTE NO GERMAN PRESS PRODUCT

BERLIN, July 26.—The German money presses are reeling off notes to the amount of more than two trillion marks daily, it was announced today. The output is being speeded up in order to enable the Reichsbank to supply the demand for notes of large denominations.

LEGION POST TO HAVE BIG MEET

An important business meeting of Glendale Post No. 127 of the American Legion will be held at 8 o'clock Friday night at the Legion hall, 610 East Broadway. All members are requested to be present.

COMMITTEE ON RECEPTION TO HARDING CUT

Decide Sixty Members Is Too Great a Number for Day

Mayor Robinson was unable to be present at the meeting of members appointed to form a reception committee to greet President Harding and party, which was called for Wednesday night at the chamber of commerce. About thirty were there and Jesse Smith, president of the chamber, presided.

The session was devoted chiefly to informal discussion of the situation and it was agreed that the original reception committee numbering about sixty was too large. As a result of the discussion arrangements were left largely in the hands of Col. Fraser with the understanding that the mayor and city officials will greet the president as the official representatives of Glendale, and will probably be present at the train in Los Angeles to welcome him on August 2, and that other members of the committee will have a place on a reviewing stand to be erected somewhere on Brand boulevard.

Ladies included in the delegation were Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club; Mrs. C. W. Hiuston, president of the General Richard Gridley chapter of the D. A. R.; Mrs. Eustace B. Moore, president of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher associations, and Mrs. William C. Mabry, president of the Thursday Afternoon club.

When the meeting closed it was the understanding that members would be officially advised of final arrangements decided upon by Mayor Robinson and city officials. The final committee, it was understood, would be reduced to 21, or one representative to every 2000 population.

Mr. Twining, head of the committee on decoration, reported the work well in hand with organizations responding nobly to requests to be responsible for the decoration of certain portions of the line of march. Along this line, he said, fine work has been done by patriotic organizations, the post and corps of the G. A. R., the post and auxiliary of Spanish war veterans, and post and auxiliary of the American Legion.

Postmaster Jackson reported that the postoffice band made up of carriers of Los Angeles and Glendale would be on hand as a federal institution to welcome the presidential party with music and he expressed the hope that it would be given preference by the committee on arrangements.

SHRINE CLUB TO GREET HARDING AS NOBLE SIR

Appoints Committee or 35 to Meet Him on Visit to City

In order that President Harding may be properly greeted by the Shriners of Glendale on his official visit here on August 3 the Glendale Shrine Club has appointed a committee of thirty-five that will meet in the club rooms in the Nesselroad building on West Broadway Friday night at 7:30 o'clock to perfect plans for Noble Harding, who is a Shriner.

The members of the presidential reception committee from the Glendale Shrine Club includes Mattison B. Jones, chairman; George B. entley, A. L. Burson, Arthur Campbell, W. E. Evans, Charles N. Elder, Daniel Hunsberger, Clement B. Hill, Charles F. Hahn, D. Ripley Jackson, Charles E. Jones, Dr. G. H. Kaemmerling, George B. Karr, Julius Kranz, Paul J. Kugler, Allen O. Martin, Wm. McMillan, D. C. Methven, Theodore H. Menk, Charles P. Nessel road, Fred Nicolaus, Charles L. Peckham, W. E. Persell, Wm. S. Rattray, James M. Rhoades, Dr. C. M. Ritchey, D. H. Smith, A. G. Spohr, Charles R. Snider, V. B. Stone, Harry Syms, Dr. F. W. Sutton, H. C. Vandewater and Lloyd H. Wilson.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDINGS UNDER WAY

Cerritos Only Exception; Delayed for Deed Probe

AVOID RESTRICTIONS

Limitations in Use Might Bar Possible Later Sale

All of the new school buildings which the board of education has been authorized to build are well started except the one at Cerritos avenue. There not even plans have been accepted, for the reason that the board does not want to act until it knows to just what it is obligated under the original deeds to that campus.

In speaking of the matter, Superintendent Richardson D. White referred to the fact that the site includes several parcels of land acquired at different times, some of which were absolutely restricted to school use. The board wants to place the new building on an unrestricted part, so that if at any time in the distant future conditions should so change that the district would want to sell any part of the property, the structure would not be on a restricted portion that could not be sold. At present the board has no idea of selling. It is simply trying to safeguard the future.

Ed Lynch was commissioned to investigate the titles and has just made a preliminary written report which contains copies of original deeds to the district running back to 1883. This report will be turned over to the county counsel for his ruling on the meaning and intent of restrictions contained in any of these deeds, made by the Richardsons and others, to trustees of the Sepulveda school district, which included the territory later incorporated as Tropico and Glendale. After such ruling the board will be in a position to consider plans and let contracts.

Concerning progress on the buildings under construction, Mr. White made the following report:

Acacia avenue: Side walls pretty well up and the contractor, George Campbell, promises that it will be ready when school opens. It is a five-room addition of plaster exterior.

Broadway: This, which is a four-room addition for which Thomas Addison is the contractor, is not so far along. The foundations are in but the walls have not begun to rise. It also is of plaster exterior and will probably be ready soon after school opens.

Central avenue: May and Hellman have the contract for this four-room unit, which is of brick, to conform to the balance of the building. The side walls are partially constructed and it will probably be ready when school opens.

Magnolia: May and Hellman also have the contract for the three-room brick addition on this campus. The foundations are in but it probably will not be finished until after school begins.

Columbus avenue: Elmer Elliott is building this brick building of four classrooms. The walls are so high as to be almost ready for the roof and the contractor has promised it for the opening of school.

Doran street: Mr. Elliott is also the contractor for this building, which was started but a short time ago. The foundations are in but it will not be ready for use earlier than a month or six weeks after school opens.

Glendale avenue: This building, which is of brick, consisting of six rooms and an auditorium, is very well advanced and the contractor, Christ Thoren, promises to have it ready by school time, if all goes well. He has suffered a little delay the past week through having to wait for brick deliveries.

Grand View: The walls on this building, of which the North Pacific Construction company is the contractor, are almost to the roof. It is of plaster exterior, and the company promises that it will be ready on time.

Pacific avenue: On this addition of six rooms and new lavatories, the digging for foundations has just started. It is to be of blue brick to match the rest of the building, and George Campbell is the contractor. He does not promise to have it ready until a month or six weeks after school opens.

COMMUNITY BAND HAS REHEARSAL

An enthusiastic rehearsal by Community Service Band was held at the Cavanah Studio, 130 North Orange Wednesday night. Adolph Le Bourgeois, who has finished his contract at the exposition, was present and conducted. Hereafter he will be here every Wednesday night. The membership is limited to men and boys and a good many are joining. There is room for more, however, and all interested musicians will be welcomed.

LABOR UNIONS TO CONSIDER VALUE OF ADVERTISING

Secretary of Printers Recommends Use of White Space

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 26.—Widespread use of newspaper advertising space has been recommended to the American Federation of Labor and international unions as the best means for carrying on educational work by J. W. Hays, secretary-treasurer of the International Typographical Union, according to an announcement made at headquarters of the typographical union here.

"Trade unions have a message of vital concern for the American people in this period of radical and paternalistic activity," said Mr. Hays. "As between the more or less cranky exponent of social and economic experimentation and the stubborn reactionary, the trade union, as represented by such men as Mr. Gompers, occupies a safe middle ground. The American labor movement offers the working man an instrument through which he may work for his betterment without danger to existing institutions.

"More general recognition of the trade union's right to existence and the fundamental fairness of its program would, in the belief of most labor leaders, go far in the direction of stabilizing American thought on economic and industrial subjects. Certainly it would be beneficial to carry the aims and purposes of unionism before the general public for approval or disapproval. The spirit of reason is more efficacious in dealing with public opinion than the spirit of strife.

"The daily newspaper is the chosen medium of the American people for the maintenance of widespread social contact. The growth of population, the development of speedy communication and other phenomena of modern civilization have brought about that condition. The average American is too busy to seek information in the highways and byways. He relies upon the daily press. The business man long since recognized that fact and came to depend upon the newspaper advertising columns to keep him in touch with his market.

"Members of the typographical and other unions have enjoyed unexcelled opportunity for observing the value of newspaper space and I have found among them hearty approval of the proposal that unions resort to advertising in their educational campaigns. Whether the object of a campaign is commercial, industrial, political or educational the most direct route to the public mind lies through the press."

NERVE OF DRIVER FEATURED INSTEAD OF STRENGTH OF STEEL

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., (United Press).—The manufacturers of an automobile, whose chief advertising slogan is "Another ——," decided to put on a stunt here to show how strong their machine was, so had a driver speed it up and do a leap from a pier to a ferry boat anchored ten feet away in the bay. The stunt worked fine, for the car made the leap and nothing broke, but all the papers featured the nerve of the driver, rather than the strength of the car, for be it known there was many feet of hungry bay water between ferry and dock.

CHILD WELFARE IS NEGLECTED HERITAGE

American Young Cheated Out of Most Valuable Possession

Americans are citizens of the wealthiest country on earth. When they leave this world they leave their children well provided for in the world's goods. Yet there is one heritage insofar as their children's welfare is concerned, in which they have been particularly negligent. The American Child Health Association, of which Herbert Hoover is president, and which is a merger of the American Child Hygiene association and the Child Health Organization of America, has prepared statistics to show that American parents do not take out health insurance for their children as they should.

According to the report more than 80 per cent of all the children born in America are born normal, though less than 20 per cent reach maturity in normal physical health. This leaves a balance of 60 per cent who drop from normal health to physical unfitness between birth and maturity. The significance of the figures is more easily seen, according to Dr. L. Emmett Holt, first vice-president of the association, in the information revealed by the medical examinations for Uncle Sam's draft army. About 30 per cent of the men between the ages of 21 and 30 were found unfit for military duty.

This revelation, according to Dr. Holt, was alarming enough to awaken a group of leading physicians and health authorities to the need for greater health regulation, supervision and instruction. The American Child Health association will co-operate with other child health agencies throughout the country toward the end that children who are born normal may reach maturity in the same condition. The association's slogan is: "There should be no child in America who is not born under proper conditions, who does not live in hygenic surroundings, who ever suffers from malnutrition, who does not have prompt and efficient medical inspection and attention and who does not receive primary instruction in the elements of hygiene and health."

COOK ESSAYS ROLE OF AMATEUR MAGICIAN

THE DALLES, Oregon, July 26 (United Press).—William Craft, local cook, is quite an amateur magician. His little feat of apparently swallowing a half dollar has mystified many of his friends. Craft tried it again the other evening, deftly slipping the coin into his mouth and quickly lodging it in the usual secret place under his tongue.

But something went wrong. The four bits went down. The cook coughed, choked and gulped out the fact that he had swallowed the money. The spectators all laughed heartily.

"Isn't William the cute clown tonight. Isn't he funny?" they asked one another. But when he finally convinced them that he really had swallowed the 50 cents, they rushed him to the hospital. The doctors said there was nothing to be alarmed about, and that Craft would doubtlessly suffer no ill consequences.

For ten years Mr. Gilliam and Miss Powell were business associates and employes at the Carnie Goudie Mfg. company in Kansas City, Mo., where Miss Powell is now cashier. She is enjoying a vacation trip in California and was very much surprised at the great amount of activity in all lines here in Glendale.

"HEART RAIDER" AT THE T. D. & L. ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Filled with thrills from start to finish, Agnes Ayres' new Paramount star picture, "The Heart Raider," will be on view at the T., D. & L. Theater Friday and Saturday.

Mahlon Hamilton, a popular screen and stage player, is leading man and heads an excellent supporting cast.

The story deals with a headstrong young woman of wealth who has advanced ideas and rather too much independence. She boasts that she will cause a rich bachelor and woman hater to take her in his arms, and she has a difficult time in making good her boast. Before the bachelor realizes that he loves the girl, there is an exciting runaway, a thrilling pageant, a night swim to a yacht, a storm and exciting rescue at sea. Of course, all ends happily, but until the final climax, the fate of the heroine, played by Miss Ayres, is in doubt. It is just such a picture as the average screen fan will enjoy. The supporting cast is excellent.

CHILD MORTALITY LOW IN BERKELEY

Berkeley, a city of 56,036 population, and seat of the University of California, had the best record in infant mortality for cities of more than 10,000 in California in 1922 with a rate of 37. This means that there were only 37 deaths of infants under one year of age out of every thousand births. The figures are taken from a report published by the American Child Health association, of which Herbert Hoover is president, and includes 635 cities in 27 states in the United States birth registration area. In addition to Berkeley there are in California 24 other cities of more than 10,000 population included in the report.

Long Beach, 55,593 population, was second with 38; Santa Barbara, 19,441, third, with 40; Alameda, 28,806, fourth, with 42 and Pasadena, 45,354, fifth with 46. Pasadena has the distinction of having led the state in infant mortality, on the average, since 1910. It had the best average for the period 1911-1915, with 51 and for the period 1916-1920 with 42. For three years, 1917, 1920, and 1921, it established the record of recent years for the state with a low mark of 31 for each year. No other city of those of more than 10,000 included in the report has equalled the Pasadena low mark in the last five years.

DESERT RAILROAD MADE TO ORDER FOR PRESIDENT

[By Associated Press]

SALT LAKE CITY, July 26.—A 40-mile railroad over the desert between Lund and Cedar City, rushed to completion in 87 days at cost of $1,049,000, was one of the incidentals in the recent reception by the state of Utah to President Harding.

On April 2 last the right of way men, acting for the Union Pacific railroad, secured possession of the needed ground for the construction of the roalway from the Salt Lake route main line at Lund to the entrance of Zion national park, and on the same day the first scraperful of earth was turned on the grade.

The contractor strung his men out in sections and as fast as a section was completed, the track-laying crew took possession and the ties and rails were set in place. Crowding upon their heels was the ballast crew. And so the work was rushed toward Cedar City.

In the midst of this orgy of toil came word that the President of the United States would visit Zion park, provided the track was in shape for his big special train upon his arrival in the west. Every man on the system from the highest executive to the lowliest section hand plunged into the work with redoubled energy.

AMERICAN LEGION SPEEDS UP NEW MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—(United Press) The state-wide membership drive of the American Legion is being speeded up in order to get new names on the department adjutant's books before they close two days from now for adjudging the number of delegates of each post to the state convention at Eureka, August 27.

The Gilroy post won the commander's cup with an increase of 500 per cent over last year's membership. Dinuba post has also won honors, having more Legionnaires than men who went to war from that city. The Arthur L. Peterson post No. 27 of Long Beach also practically doubled its membership.

'THELMA' OPENS AT GLENDALE TODAY AND TONIGHT

Is love alone worth living for—worth dying for? Is it the only satisfying good we can grasp among the shifting shadows of our brief existence?

These are questions asked in Marie Corelli's great novel of the Norseland, "Thelma," which comes to the Glendale theater today and tonight, with Jane Novak in the leading role of the Norwegian girl who married a British nobleman and captivated London society by her beauty and charm.

In these days of tragic romances, with slayings and divorces crowding the public prints, theater-goers will give thanks for a screen romance of such strong, clean wholesomeness as "Thelma." Millions throughout the world have read and re-read Marie Corelli's novel. It has been published in more than a dozen different languages. And all those who have read it will see it picturized with truly religious adherence to the original story. There have been no deviations in the film version. Chester Bennett, who produced it with uncommon skill, developed all the poignant heart interest, all the sweet charm and all the fiery drama that made the book such a world-wide favorite.

Marie Corelli answers her questions about love with smashing effect. She leaves no doubt about her convictions on this topic. Therefore, critics are hailing "Thelma" as not only one of the foremost artistic successes of the year but one of the most timely and engrossing as well. In the splendid cast are such well-known players as Barbara Tennant, Gordon Mullen, Bert Sprotte, Vernon Steel, Peter Burke, Jack Rollens, Harvey Clark, June Elvidge, Wedgewood Nowell, Harry Lounsdale and little Virginia Novak.

It's an F. B. O. picture.

DEVISE NEW METHODS OF SAVING LIFE

By JOHN O'BRIEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, July 26 (United Press).—Instead of blood transfusion to save the lives of persons in danger of death from aenemia, Dr. Henri Durville presented to the congress of experimental psychology here a new method by which the vitality of a healthy patient is transmitted to the invalid. He cited many cases in which patients given up by specialists have been practically brought back to life.

Dr. Durville gave details of two cases in which he was especially interested, because the persons affected were members of his own family. One was his nephew, aged seven, stricken with double pneumonia. Two specialists, members of the academy of medicine, informed Dr. Durville that they saw no hope of saving the boy's life. Dr. Durville explained to the congress how he succeeded where the specialists failed.

"The method," he said, "is simple. Take a piece of flannel or linen and place it over the affected organ. Take a deep breath and apply the lips, the mouth well open, over the cloth. Expel the breath with the greatest energy with the will to make it enter into the patient's body. When all the air in the lungs has been exhaled draw another deep breath and repeat the operation. This must be kept up at intervals of five minutes for several hours. It is fatiguing but effective."

Dr. Durville declared he continued this operation every five minutes for 12 hours a day for three days in the case of the nephew, saving the child's life.

The other patient was the doctor's wife who was suffering from blood poisoning after childbirth. Two specialists also had abandoned hope. The doctor and his brother took turns at employing the same method and at the end of ten days the specialists who had said she could not be saved were invited to return and see her in full convalescence.

"It is a miracle," was their verdict, according to to Dr. Durville.

OIL STOCK SALES ARE SUPERVISED

Thousands of oil companies are operating in the recently opened California fields around Santa Fe Springs, Long Beach and Huntington Beach.

As a protection against any fraudulent type of promotion, that may be attempting to operate, California maintains a corporation commission which has done much excellent work in curbing what otherwise probably wuold have become a more serious situation, similar to the losses sustained in the Oklahoma and Texas oil booms through the deliberate fraudulent operations of promoters over whom little control could be exercised because of a lack of state regulation.

The federal government likewise has detailed a staff of postoffice inspectors to the California fields to expose and prosecute any promoters who may have misused the mails in the sale of oil stock. Through these state and federal agencies, the public has the opportunity to lodge its complaints.

The office of the corporation commission of California to which such complaints should be addressed is located at Los Angeles and the postoffice inspector's headquarters also are at Los Angeles. About the only requirement is that complaints must set out the facts in detail and be accompanied by advertising, literature and correspondence. Complainis merely showing that a bad investment has been made will not be considered. Evidences of a serious deception or fraud are essential.

Watch What Happens!

Lubricate your automobile with Zerolene, which costs about half what you pay for many other oils, and watch what happens.

First, you find that your gasoline bills are lower. Repeated tests have demonstrated that, other factors being equal, the car lubricated with Zerolene makes about 5% better gasoline mileage than cars lubricated with other oils.

Second, your car goes from 25% to 50% farther before you need to grind valves or remove carbon. This fact, too, is fully substantiated by numerous tests.

Insist on Zerolene—even if it does cost less.

M'ATEES RETURN FROM HONOLULU HONEYMOON

Astounded at Growth of Glendale During Last Fifteen Months

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McAtee, who have been spending their honeymoon the past year in Honolulu, returned Saturday on the S. S. Calawaii, to the home of Mrs. McAtee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Totman of 2603 Hermosita drive. Mrs. McAtee was formerly Miss Roma Doughty of 537 West Lexington drive. At the time of the marriage the bride was connected with the local telephone exchange while Mr. McAtee owned and operated the grocery at the corner of Lexington and Pacific.

Mr. and Mrs. Totman's Verdugo Woodlands home, "El Nido," was the scene of a gay reception and dinner party. The house was beautifully decorated, the color scheme being pink and white. The happy couple was the recipient of many gifts. Among the guests present were Mr. McAtee's mother, Mrs. Anna H. McAtee of Glendale and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forbell of Los Angeles. When in Honolulu, Mr. McAtee was connected with Henry May & Co., Lt., the largest retail grocers on the islands.

Like all others returning from a sojourn in the islands they were enchanted with the wonderful tropical scenery and points of interest in and about the islands. They lived for six months on the famous Waikiki Beach.

They both agree that no place is quite like Glendale and are astounded at its marvelous growth during the fifteen months of their absence. Mr. and Mrs. McAtee will be at home after August 1 at 402 East Palmer avenue.

'SAFETY LAST' IS CROWDING NEW GATEWAY HOUSE

Harold Lloyd has just emerged victoriously from an argument with his life insurance agent, Charles McGregor.

Like all of the comedian's pictures, "Safety Last," his latest feature length production, was previewed a number of times. It happened that the insurance agent who sold Harold his life insurance, saw one of these previews.

The very next day Mr. McGregor called at the Hal Roach studios to see the star. He protested indignantly, in the interests of his company, against the risks taken by the young comedian, saying that the policy had been taken out for a motion picture comedian but not for a reckless daredevil, and that if "Safety Last" was an indication of the line of work the comedian intended to follow, the insurance company would cancel the policy.

Harold listened quietly to all the outraged Mr. McGregor had to say and then assured him that cancelling the policy would not be necessary as "Safety Last" would be the last picture of the kind he would ever make, and, except for a broken shoulder blade he had survived it in splendid health. But everybody who will see "Safety Last" will be able to sympathize with both the agent and his company.

$10,000 GIFT OF RARE INDIAN BASKETS TO W. S. C.

Rare Indian baskets, valued at $9,000 or $10,000, have just been given to the State College of Washington museum of art and natural history by H. C. Stimson of Hollywood Farm, Seattle. They will be known as the Fred S. Stimson exhibit, in memory of the late regent of the college, father of H. C. Stimson.

Mrs. Fred Stimson spent 10 years in personal search and study, which resulted in a collection not duplicated anywhere in the world. Many of the baskets show some of the finest art of the red man, and some are extremely rare, being woven by tribes now extinct.

Among the baskets, which number 150 or 160, are those made by Indians of Alaska, Western Canada, Washington, Oregon, California, Arizona and Nevada, beautifully fashioned in quaint and curious shapes, all sizes and patterns, some decorated elaborately with bird feathers, others with beads, colored grasses and threads. One, the prize of the collection, Mrs. Stimson was offered $2,000 for by another collector who knew that the only other one of the sort in existence is in the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, D. C.

Cases for the exhibition of the baskets will be installed in one of the fireproof buildings, probably the Mechanic Arts building, where the art department has its studios in conjunction with the department of architecture. The gift is to be boxed, insured, and shipped this summer, to be installed in time for the opening of the fall semester, September 17, when there are always many visitors to the campus who would be interested.

LAST MAN EATER SAMOA POISONED

[By Associated Press]

PAGO PAGO, American Samoa, July 26.—The capture of the last of four wild-man-eating savages who escaped from the Island of New Hebrides in 1890 and landed on the Island of Tutuila on a raft, ends the thirty-year dread of the island natives here for the man-eaters. The wild man was captured by an escaped prisoner who, being filled with remorse for his criminal record and being ashamed again to face his fellow man, said he took to the hills of Pago Pago, where he had planned to commit suicide.

While the escaped prisoner was making preparations to carry out his suicidal intent, he was confronted by the black savage. The convict "got the drop" on the wild man, bound him, and held him prisoner over night. The next day the prisoner brought his savage captive to the Tutuila Naval Station here, where the two took their stand in dramatic fashion under the Stars and Stripes. Samoans gathered, but, apparently, feared to attack the savage they had hunted for many years.

Robert Louis Stevenson, in one of his books, told of the escape of four black recruited laborers from a German plantation in New Hebrides. The men, Stevenson wrote, fled owing to their ill treatment, and escaped to Tutuila on a raft. One was killed.

The three remaining blacks haunted the bush not far from Pago Pago, towards the eastern end of Tutuila, and were occasionally seen by hunters. In the year 1900 one was caught by a young Samoan chief, and the captured savage said that one of the other two had died, leaving only one at large. This is the man who has just been brought in.

SIX-FOOT RATTLER KILLED BY RANCHER

OAKDALE, Cal., (United Press). —A rattlesnake five feet 11 inches long, with 19 rattles was killed here by Paul Harris after a battle with it, with stones and clubs. Harris had had an eye on the snake's trail for nearly two years, as it made a path that showed it much larger than the average reptile. The snake was more than 10 inches in circumference.

DE MOLAYS TO DANCE UPON BIRTHDAY

An air of revelry will pervade the Masonic temple this evening, when local De Molays and their friends gather to celebrate the first birthday of Glendale chapter, Order of De Molay.

The surprise that has been announced in connection with the affair has at last been made public. It will be a dance, held in the ballroom of the temple at the conclusion of the program. A snappy local orchestra has been obtained for the occasion and a real dance is promised.

A musical program and talks by prominent speakers will precede the dance. These opening events will be held in the upper lodge room of the temple. The exact program has not yet been announced.

On July 31 the local chapter will travel to Van Nuys, where they will put on the degrees of the order before the Masons of that city, who are desirous of instituting a chapter there. Paul O. Morgan, master councilor, calls all officers to a special meeting Friday to prepare for the Van Nuys trip.

GEORGE WARD AND RAY SHERMAN GET SURPRISE PARTY

The George Ward and Ray Sherman home at 902 East Wilson was the scene of a merry surprise party on Tuesday evening, when about 20 guests walked in and surprised Mrs. Ward and Mr. Sherman. The latter had a birthday Saturday and the former is celebrating hers today. The evening was spent in the games of crokinole, flinch and dominoes and music. Miss Riches at the piano and Wm. Hadsell on the mandolin. Wynn Grontaidge, baritone soloist, rendered some of the old Scotch ballads. Special mention should be made of "Roamin' in the Gloamin." A delicious lunch of cake and ice cream was furnished, after which the guests departed, wishing them many happy returns. Following are the names of those present: Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Addison, John Addison, Mr. and Mrs. Osmond Riches and Miss I. Riches, recently from Medicine Hat, Alberta; Mrs. Aitkens and Mr. and Mrs. Matthews, recently from Ontario, Canada; Mr. and Mrs. Wynn Grontaidge, Miss Annie Chapman, Wm. LEWIS ELECTRIC HEATER TO BE MADE IN L. A.

The Lewis Electric Water Heater company, owners of one of the first successful automatic electric water heaters, has recently let contracts to the Federal Water Heater company of Los Angeles, for the manufacture of their electric water heaters. The decided superiority of the boiler turned out by the Federal Water heater company was the cause of the decision of placing the contract. The latter company will therefore act as sales agents for the Lewis Heater in Los Angeles county. And the Lewis heater will be manufactured in conjunction with the celebrated Thermo-Storage heater at their plant at 354 South Los Angeles street, Los Angeles.

FASHION CENTER BUYER RETURNS FROM SEATTLE

Miss Heit of the Fashion Center on South Brand, has just returned from a visit to the factory in Seattle, at which the apron dresses which she handles are made. She reports it is quite an ideal establishment, as far removed from any sweatshop conditions as day is from night. Windows on all sides make it beautifully light and all conditions promote the health and comfort of employes. Especially interested was she in the means adopted to secure the hand embroidery with which the aprons are beautified. About 200 housewives of the city, refined women with pretty homes of their own, take the garments and embroider them. Apart from the pin money they earn in this way is the pleasure they have in the work, which satisfies in some degree their art instinct to create beautiful things. Applique is less in vogue than the straight embroidery, she says. So pretty are the garments she was able to buy that they are going fast and she has had to repeat her orders.

8.8 PER 1,000 SUICIDE RATIO

[By Associated Press]

TOKIO, July 26.—The suicide rate in Japan is 8.8 per thousand, the majority being among young people between 20 and 30 years of age, men exceeding women. The most common causes are mental derangement, sickness, poverty and domestic discord. The men who commit suicide on account of poverty are nearly three times as numerous as women while nearly twice as many women as men are driven to take their own lives owing to unhappiness in domestic relations.

AMERICA'S HUGE TASK

Dr. A. E. Jenks, head of the Americanization department of the University of Minnesota, said recently: "No nation in Europe or Asia has so great a need as America to think seriously about the task of nation building."

The thoughtful citizen, pondering the statement, will be likely to find himself agreeing. Other peoples are homogeneous. This nation a compound of elements gathered from the continents and the seas, subject to constant additions. It takes to itself the dark-haired native of southern Europe, the Slav of the central country and the Norseman. All these, and more, it must weld into unity, equip with the American spirit, and inspire to love of their adopted land. It is a gigantic undertaking.

This country welcomes the intelligent and well meaning foreigner, potential material for citizenship. He must for a time be classed as an alien, but the term involves not the slightest reproach. The opportunity of becoming a citizen is proffered him. There are many schools and organizations for educating him. If he comes with the intention of entering fully into the performance of his duties, there is nothing to prevent him from becoming a citizen of the very highest type. There are many examples to prove the truth of this.

The dangerous equation is the alien who desires so to remain, and who, even though he take the oath of fealty, is an alien at heart still. It is from this class there is recruited the army of agitators denouncing the constitution they do not understand, and railing at conditions they do nothing to make better. The alien must adapt himself to the constitution, and not feel at liberty to adapt it to his own inclinations. To teach the way, and to restrain him if he refuses to be taught, is part of the great task; but the United States is a great country. It will not be baffled even by this problem.

FRIENDSHIP WITH FRANCE

Marshal Foch, as part of the ceremonies of consecrating a field to the memory of American soldiers who died in France, paid them a noble tribute. It is with a thrill of gratification and pride Americans who cheered these boys as they went across, realize that the tribute was sincere, out of a full heart, and that though the words were those of Foch, the sentiment was that of France. The tie of friendship that was wrought into renewed strength when the armies of the west crossed the sea to save Europe, is not to be broken easily. It must be a permanent bond. The friendship is mutual. The valor of the French excited the admiration of the world.

This country, slow about entering the war, went to the end of hostilities with full honor, doing its part. If an error was made it was in too early withdrawal, based on the assumption that with the signing of the armistice, the fight had been won. History will record that the fight never was won. It could have been won had the terms of surrender been drawn up after allied troops were in German territory. It is natural to believe that had such been the course, the present complications that keep Europe in a state of turmoil, never could have arisen.

In the circumstances, Americans are in no humor to blame the French for their present course. They had been defied and flouted by a power they were supposed to have defeated. The triumphant vanquished had shown not the slightest desire or intent to pay for the wanton damages inflicted. The debt was a vast one, but a wholly just one. France gave ample warning that effort must be made to pay it, and stated what would be the consequences of failure to make the effort. No heed was given to the warning. The result has been disastrous to Germany. Some hold that it is disastrous to France and to the whole economic world.

It is worth while to conjecture what would have happened to France had it bowed to the will of Germany. It declined to bow. Even at the suggestion of England it still declines. And in America, where fair play is held in esteem, there is no tendency to rebuke France.

AMERICAN HISTORY

Americans are proud of their history. They realize that their flag never represented an unjust cause; that their armies never fought when not inspired by the thought of upholding the right. They wish this history to be set down fully and fairly. History, in theory at least, is the narration of facts. When it is an aggregation of misleading statements it is not history, but fiction. No American wants the real history of his country censored. Neither does any American desire the land of his birth or adoption to be painted in false colors, the motives of its patriots impugned, the actions of its Washington, Jefferson, Hancock and others of the period misconstrued, the achievements of its soldiery belittled, and momentous events set down as trifles, or ignored.

There seems to have been a misconception on the part of certain writers touching the whole matter of censorship of history. They have jumped to the conclusion that Americans wish to have the truth perverted, their own valor extolled, their purposes overlauded, and their foes of ancient time made to appear wholly at fault, contentious, brutal and contemptible. This idea is as far from correct as it would be possible to get. The author who essays to prove that the Revolution was a mistake, and its outcome unfortunate, is not faithful to his calling. He merits rebuke and his output is in need of correction.

It is obvious that part of the attack on school textbooks for history classes has been due to a baseless prejudice. Professional haters of England have ascribed the misrepresentations to British propaganda, a silly and illogical course to take. Historians have been losing their sense of proportion and of values. It is not for the prejudiced to correct them, but they deserve correction from sources of dignity and standing.

Mussolini, premier or dictator of Italy, certainly is a man of strong character. The way in which he projected himself into control of the situation may be regarded almost as unique. However, he is showing weakness in his opposition to the press. The ban he has put upon the expression of opinion and upon the exploitation of news, if made effective, would render the press a useless travesty. If the gentlemen of the press submit, they are made of poor stuff.

There always seems to be a reluctance to restrain individuals desirous of risking their own lives in some spectacular fashion. An exception ought to be made as to aviators, for the sake of the public. The incompetent flier who goes up, and comes down in a mass of wreckage is highly dangerous to the great majority still footing it humbly at the surface of the earth.

The American Red Cross has for a year financed the Child Health association. Experiments conducted with results so far gratifying will be continued for a period of four years more. The aim of the organization is to promote the health of the child from birth through school age. It has been found very helpful in spreading knowledge of sanitation and hygiene.

Two were killed and seven wounded when a drug-crazed Mexican ran amuck at the border. This was a little extreme even for an addict, and yet fairly representative of the conduct that is to be expected while dope fiends are at large.

FEELINGS AND FINGER PRINTS

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

Thousands of people disappear in the United States annually; thousands of children are kidnaped or lost; innumerable unfortunates wander away the victims of aphasia and amnesia; nine babies are abandoned daily in New York City alone.

Estelle Lawton Lindsey

What can be done to make the identification of such people easier? How can they best be restored to their friends? How can society most thoroughly throw the fear of God into the souls of kidnapers? And finally what can be done to prevent the arrest of innocent people charged with crime because of an accidental resemblance to somebody else?

The answer to one of the foregoing questions is the answer to all, finger printing or foot printing offers the only known positive method of identification; consequently as a measure of protection we should all be finger printed.

One great organization, the National Federation of Women's Clubs, recognizes the value of finger and foot printing and has advocated its general adoption; especially did it recommend the printing of babies' feet as a means of putting a stop to kidnaping and infant desertion.

Mrs. Mary E. Hamilton of the New York police department thinks this would prevent a vast amount of suffering and actual crime and do much to remove the antipathy to finger printing?

Why then is it not done? Probably the chief obstacle to the adoption of such a sane and simple method of identification comes from that same antipathy. We had rather take chances with fate than to protect ourselves and our loved ones by a method which we habitually associate with criminals.

That is silly. If New York or any other city had such a means of identification every infant cast off by heartless parents in the city could be traced to its family and the parents made to take care of it. No scamp could harbor a stolen child and get away with it for very long; and no parents in small towns would grieve for daughters whose bodies had been found in the river unless the recorded official finger prints of those daughters confirmed the coroner's verdict.

But the dimunition of the confusion incident to our haphazard methods of identification must wait in the adjustment of our precious feelings. We must not have our armour propre injured by association with criminals even when that association is confined to the proximity of finger prints in a public record.

Aren't we silly creatures with our petty vanities and futile prides?

We'd rather have babies lost or stolen than to "subject" them to the indignity of foot printing. We'd prefer taking the chance of being lost in an attack of aphasia to taking the chance of having some nit wit ask us what our finger prints were doing in the rogue's gallery.

It would be funny if the results were not so sad. We are AFRAID to make certain our own identification, in this respect being identical with the criminal.

Anyhow, hurrah for the National Federation. It called attention to an idea.

THE LISTENING POST

By James W. Foley

JAMES W. FOLEY

A good deal is said of dishonesty.

The cynics say that dishonesty lies in being found out.

And there is always a half truth in what the cynics say.

Half truths are dangerous.

* * *

The world today needs more than anything else honest thinking.

To see things in their true and real aspect.

To get away from sham and hypocrisy and self deception.

There is no menace in the world like that of self deception.

To pretend yourself to be something you are not.

To seek to delude yourself that you have done right when you know you have done wrong.

* * *

There are many instances of dishonesty.

There is in the center of the street intersection a curved thing or half-sphere, that the auto driver must go around when the traffic officer watches.

But when the traffic officer is not there to watch, the driver cuts the corner, as they say.

He disregards the index.

He is dishonest.

* * *

Because he obeys the law only when the officer is watching him.

Which is just what a thief does.

Or a burglar.

Or any other criminal.

The driver can disobey the law with impunity because there is no one to see or report him.

And if you told the driver he was dishonest and of the same piece with the burglar he would be angry.

Yet it is true.

* * *

He cheated. That is what a thief does.

The clerk or the stenographer was to stay till five o'clock at the office.

The Boss is away.

At a quarter of five the clerk or the stenographer closes the office.

And leaves. The Boss will not know it.

Dishonesty. Fifteen minutes of time stolen.

* * *

The editor is confronted with a great question.

On one side is right and justice and fair play.

On the other is money and profit.

He chooses money and profit, knowing he is traveling away from right and justice.

Dishonesty. Opinion sold for money.

* * *

The preacher preaches to please.

The congregation wants to be pleased.

To tell the truth would be unpopular.

And unprofitable.

Dishonesty again. The greatest thing in the world, human spirit and soul, sold for money, or popularity.

* * *

The author writes a book.

He fills it with lewdness and filth.

It will sell.

His conscience revolts.

But he needs the money.

He craves notoriety.

Dishonesty again, Genius sold for money.

* * *

These are the things thievery does in another way.

Violates conscience and law for money and comfort.

Honesty is not a relative thing.

It is absolute and unswerving and sure.

It is the square reply to the inquiry of conscience.

When we shift, evade, explain and squirm under the inquiry of conscience there is dishonesty somewhere.

Songs of the Poets

Temple Garlands—By Mary Robinson

There is a temple in my heart,
Where moth and rust can never come,
A temple swept and set apart,
To make my soul a home.

And round about the doors of it
Hang garlands that forever last,
That gathered once are always sweet;
The roses of the Past!

THE LIQUOR PROBLEM IN CANADA

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THE people of the United States need not think that they alone are troubled with the liquor question. In one form or another the matter of controlling the sale of alcoholic beverages receives the attention of almost every government in the world.

Our neighbor Canada is following along in about the same path we have traveled. In no part of the Dominion is the sale of liquor unrestricted. Everywhere it is regarded as subject to police surveillance.

In the Provinces of Saskatchewan, Alberta and Manitoba conditions are bone dry. Bootlegging, however, is not so serious in Canada as in the United States, as the sense of absolute obedience to law is more highly developed among the British than among the Americans. Besides this the average Canadian is sober and hard working. There are few parlor Bolshevists and the war cry of personal liberty is not so strident as in the States.

In Quebec where there is a considerable population of French descent with traditions strongly favoring the use of liquor it is possible to buy wet goods, but even here the restrictions are quite severe. Similar conditions prevail in the Provinces of Ontario and British Columbia.

According to the Quebec liquor law the government alone may buy or sell alcoholic beverages, and it does this through a Commission.

For this Commission men of the highest standing and reputation have been chosen.

It has established stores in cities where alcohol is sold only in sealed packages and in limited quantities. These stores are open but a few hours each day. On holidays and election days they are closed.

There is this to be said for this plan; the sale is made openly and without stealth, the alcohol is pure and the Commission uses its best judgment as to whom it shall sell.

It is contended that the Quebec Liquor Law has reduced drunkenness, bootlegging and the illicit manufacture of impure liquor; also that the law is observed because the people are behind it, and that the use of light beer and wines is increasing.

Opinion in other provinces, Manitoba for instance, differs from this. There the prevalent conviction is the same as that found in most of the United States. In a recent article in the Winnipeg Free Press it was pointed out that the experience of British Columbia which has a modified license system has not been satisfactory.

At a recent meeting of Victoria business men a resolution was adopted which condemned the Liquor Board for opening so many stores and otherwise pushing its business. This resolution concludes with the following words:

"We find that the huge sums of money being diverted from the necessary channels of trade is crippling industry, impoverishing the homes of our people and depriving women and children of the necessaries of life."

There is every evidence that the tide of opinion against the public sale of liquors in Canada is steadily increasing. As one Canadian said, "There are people who have grown from childhood to manhood and have never seen a man crucified, yet time was when death on the cross was fearfully common. People have grown to mature years and have never seen a person put in the stocks as punishment, nor a witch nor a slave sold, and yet not so very long ago witch-burning was a favorite sport, stocks were set up in every village and slaves were as common as cattle.

"Our next goal is that the time may come when the boys and girls shall never see an intoxicated man."

(Copyright, 1923, by Dr. Frank Crane)

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

IF OTHERS DID THE SAME

[Albany Journal]

Officials of the Anti-Saloon league have announced that the organization will spend $2,500,000 in the election campaign of 1924, to prevent the election of candidates whom it opposes.

In a country as large as this, so large a sum and even a larger one may be easily spent for legitimate campaign purposes, wherefore it would be wrong to impute improper purposes to the men who do the business of the league.

At the same time one cannot help thinking of the certainty that if men who are in a position to speak for party organizations should announce their intention to spend some millions of dollars to defeat candidates who are favored by the league, some of the spokesmen of that organization would be quick to make the charge that corrupt practices were contemplated.

Incidentally, the league's announcement is further evidence that goes to prove that it is a political organization.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

Cyanide in commercial quantities is now being taken from the air. Thus a new area is opened to production. What else it may be induced to supply even the scientist is unable to conjecture.

HENRY JAMES

Land generally is considered the basis of wealth in the broadest sense. James J. Hill used to say there were four sources of wealth, the land, the water, the mines and the forests. Who raises a crop of grain, or garners the treasures of the sea, turns a tree into lumber, or brings to the surface a ton of coal, has added to the total of values.

Perhaps not even the keen-visioned Hill had thought of the wonders to be wrought by utilizing the powers hidden in the rushing mountain stream. It may be deemed quite certain that he had not foreseen the time when the air itself should be made to serve directly in augmenting production. The cyanide manufactured is for use in orchards and vineyards, and will increase the yield.

Invasion of the air by the flying ship was strange enough. It seemed a miracle. But the less spectacular invasion that takes from the atmosphere elements that the ordinarily well-informed person did not know were there, adapting them to useful purposes, is stranger still.

In regard to denunciation directed in this column against a certain class of aliens, a correspondent sends word that Arnold, Burr, Booth, Guiteau, Haywood, Foster and others, spoke or speak English. The information does not supply any long-felt need, nor does it have anything to do with the case.

Chicago "society" is said to have had a ride in a flock of police patrol wagons after a resort had been raided.

The term "society" is subject to several definitions. Doubtless the prisoners in this instance were social individuals, not quite careful as to whom they associated with.

Thirty-one insane criminals escaped from an Illinois asylum for their kind the other day. Doubtless this was a desperate lot of men. There are, of course, insane criminals. For most of the evil-doers who win such classification, it is but half correct. They are criminals but not insane.

A favored method of the guilty, when they find that not even a trick lawyer can save them, is to play insanity, the fact that they desire to do so, and do it well, being reasonable evidence that they are sane.

Even southern Californians do not realize that many thousands of people are coming to this end of the state by automobile every month. At Daggett alone the cars, that are inspected there, bring about 24,000 a month. And greater throngs are coming in through the northern route.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

CHALK HAWKS

Mother bought Pudge a nice new box of colored crayon. She had the best of intentions. Pudge loved to write with crayons and the exercise was good for him. Of course. But—

Pudge shook the crayons out of the box and into his pocket and sallied forth to make his mark on the unoffending face of things. Across the way Mrs. Lovely's brown stone steps flanked by two broad and squatty posts caught his eye. The very thing.

He spread his colors on the walk and selected a vivid green. Pushing hard against the soft stone he drew a man—a very circular person, with arms that extended on either side as far as the post permitted. Pudge was generous in the matter of fingers and fringed the ends of the arms well.

"He ought to have a red shirt I guess," said he, and scrubbed the red in well. "And yellow pants. No—one leg yellow and one pink." And it was done and the whole crowned with a hat after the cavaliers.

"Now I'll put a lady for him on the other post." And with a will and much color, that, too, was accomplished. Wearied with his labor he stepped back to get a good view of it and Nudge came over.

"Lend us a piece. I'll make a house," and re-enforced, the work of beautification went on apace. The steps, the walk, the posts shouted and danced and waved in lines and masses of weird color.

Mrs. Lovely came home and stood aghast. All the colors in the assortment chased themselves over her face. Wrath filled her soul. "Which of you did that?" she demanded.

"Me," said Pudge proudly.

"No! Some of it I done," said Nudge.

"You're the very worst children I ever heard of. What do you mean by ruining my gateway like this? How dare you scrawl such horrible things here? If you must be so outrageous, so heathenish, why don't you do it at home?"

Pudge gazed solemly across the street where green hedges shut his garden from public view. "We haven't got such nice stones," said he regretfully.

Mrs. Lovely lifted the telephone receiver with trembling hand and in a few minutes Pudge's mother rushed out. "Pudge, Pudge, how could you? Come in this minute. I cannot let you out of my sight. You're awful!" Then Pudge wept.

Chalk hawks are a nuisance and not to be allowed. If you cannot keep them within bounds, give them no chalk. There is no reason why the walks and posts should be made hideous with their decorations. And the billboards are frightful enough without any additions.

The concrete floor of the laundry will do. A blackboard is better. But the sidewalk and the neighbor's fences, NO.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

Tote Warburg had the bunch over to his house the other night to see home pictures, moving and otherwise. Tote can charitably be described as a bug on our national park system. He says the American who spends his time and money pottering off to Europe when there are better sights at home is a this and that.

"Europeans come over here to see our parks, darn it," says Warburg, "and nine people out of ten they meet do not know where Yellowstone is. Seventy out of one hundred think the Grand Canyon is in the Yosemite valley."

No doubt Tote is right and the pictures he showed us were superb. If the audience had been composed of strangers Tote would have "gone big." Those of us who have seen the parks know that Tote did not even begin to scratch the surface of their wonders, and yet we sat there with cynical grins. We know Tote.

"How high does Old Faithful throw?" we asked. And when Tote told us we said:

"Now, nix, Tote. Put it down a bit."

He is one of those unfortunates who cannot help embroidering a story. If he had been on board the ill-fated Titanic he would have had the steamer hit two icebergs. He won a decoration in the war. But when he tells the yarn that clattering noise you hear is the late Baron Munchausen revolving rapidly in his tomb. A London bobby chased Tote out of a place in which he had no business to be. The story, unadorned, is a classic. But when Tote tells that he hit the bobby in the eye he loses his audience. Yet when he makes a statement on a matter of business it is accurate to a gnat's heel. He isn't a real liar.

Most of us are going to the parks this summer. But Tote almost discouraged us. We do not believe that on chilly summer evenings the grizzly bears come into the hotels and lie down in front of the log fires.

CHINESE READY FOR THE GOSPEL SAYS DIVINE

STOCKHOLM, July 25. — China will accept Christianity when it is convinced that the religion of Jesus Christ and that alone will solve the pressing problems of that country, Dr. Joseph Taylor, missionary of the American Baptist Foreign Missionary Society in China, told the Baptist World Alliance today during the presentation of its program on "Facing the Future in Baptist Foreign Missions."

Taking an expression of a native Christian gathering in China to the effect that "We are agreed to differ, but resolved to love" as one of the most concrete statements of the spirit of Christ, Dr. Taylor said: "It is, after all, but the beginning of the contribution of the Chinese church to the volume of Christian thought. If the Chinese are permitted to work out their own conceptions of the teachings of Jesus, they will still further enrich the church of the West with other jewels and add fresh garlands to her adornment, but they must be allowed full sway and play with this beautiful thing which we call Christianity. They must be free to take the religion of Jesus and apply it to their own individual lives and test it in their social organization and apply it to their national problems and prove it and see if it will help them as individuals and as a nation. If it will, and I believe it will, and that nothing else will, then they will adopt it and adapt it to their needs."

ANTIQUATED EGG SHOWER BREAKS UP PARTY

SUNNYVALE, Cal., (United Press).—A merry party was in progress at the home of Charles Brymisen here, when suddenly a shower of antiquated eggs came flying through the windows. After the shower had come, and some of the aroma of the prehistoric henfruit had died away, the men rushed forth and found six youths who looked guilty. The six were fined $10 each, and warned that in the future the city dump could care for such aged eggs.

ARMISTICE DAY TO FEATURE SON AND FATHER WEEK

NEW YORK, July 25. (Associated Press.)—A change in the dates of National Father and Son week, so as to have the observance center each year around Armistice day, is endorsed by President Harding in a letter received at the New York offices of the International Committee, Y. M. C. A., which originated the observance in 1917 and whose Boys' Work committee continues to lead its promotion.

The change from the week of Lincoln's birthday, used for the purpose of observance until this year has been made in response to the desire of national and international Sunday school organizations. The President's letter follows:

"My attention has been called to the National Father and Son movement, which is to be launched during national Father and Son week, November 11-18. It is a great pleasure for me to commend this movement, which has as its objective to draw together in a more intimate way the fathers and sons of America, and to strengthen and develop this relationship.

"The success of this movement during the past years has won for it a distinct place. Since the movement has become world-wide in character, it is most fitting that it center around the date of world-wide significance, Armistice day. Surely, the coming generation will need to be constantly reminded of their obligation to help maintain the peace of the world, for which millions of fathers and sons have died in past years.

"It is hoped that all individuals as well as constructive agencies, interested in the boy life of our nation, will give this week due consideration and recognition by bringing together fathers and sons in schools, churches, clubs and other places, and assisting the boys of the community to their own inherent right of companionship with their fathers."

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours

Every Druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenrhu, the sure conquerer of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenrhu has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenrhu, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenrhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. AMERICAN PEACE PRIZE AWARD CONDITIONS

The following are the conditions of the American Peace Award created by Edward W. Bok, offering prizes of $100,000 for the best peace plan for the world. The contest is open to clubs, classes, societies, as well as individuals.

This award will be given to the author of the best practicable plan by which the United States may cooperate with other nations to achieve and preserve the peace of the world.

The award is offered in the conviction that the peace is the world is the problem of the people of the United States, and that a way can be found by which America's voice can be made to count among the nations for peace and for the future welfare and integrity of the United States.

The purpose of the award is to give the American people from coast to coast a direct opportunity to evolve a plan that will be acceptable to many groups of our citizens, who, while now perhaps disagreeing as to the best method of international association, strongly desire to see America do its share in the prevention of war and the establishment of comity among the nations of the earth.

Since the plan finally selected by the jury may be a composite of more than one plan, there are also offered, in addition, second, third, fourth and fifth awards of five thousand dollars each for any plans or portions of plans used by the jury of award in a composite plan.

If the jury accepts one plan in full, making no additions to it from other plans, no subsidiary awards will be made.

QUALIFICATIONS OF CONTESTANTS

The contest is open to every citizen of the United States, by birth or naturalization.

Plans may be submitted either by individuals or by organizations of every kind, national, state or local.

The winning plan must provide a practicable means whereby the United States can take its place and do its share toward preserving world peace, while not making compulsory the participation of the United States in European wars, if any such are, in the future, found unpreventable.

The plan may be based upon the present covenant of the League of Nations or may be entirely apart from that instrument.

The purpose of the award is twofold; first, to produce a plan; and secondly, to insure, so far as may be, that it will be put into operation.

The award is, therefore, to be made in two payment: fifty thousand dollars will be paid to the author of the winning plan as soon as the jury of award has selected it. The second fifty thousand dollars will be paid to the author, if and when the plan, in substance and intent, is approved by the United States senate; or if and when the jury of award decides that an adequate degree of popular support has been demonstrated for the winning plan.

The question of whether amendments which may be made in the senate materially affect the intent of the plan submitted, and the acceptance or rejection of these amendments are left entirely to the judgment of the jury of award.

The second half of the award, or fifty thousand dollars shall not be deemed to have been won unless the conditions above mentioned as to the approval of the plan shall be fulfilled on or before March 4, 1925.

The subsidiary awards are to be paid upon the same basis as the principal award: that is twenty-five hundred dollars will be paid to the author at the time the first fifty thousand dollars is paid, and the remaining twenty-five hundred dollars if and when the composite plan, in substance and intent, shall have been accepted by the senate of the United States; or if and when the jury of award decides that an adequate degree of popular support has been demonstrated for the winning plan.

Plans submitted should not be in the form of bills, resolutions, or treaties suitable for presentation to the senate.

The paper submitted may include not only the exposition of the plan, but also argument for it.

A summary of not exceeding 500 words must accompany every plan.

The total number of words submitted, exclusive of the summary, must not exceed 5,000.

Only one plan may be submitted by any one contestant.

Manuscripts must be typewritten, and on only one side of the page.

They must not be accompanied by letters.

They must not bear the name of the author or contain anything by which the author might be identified. Each manuscript must have attached to it a plain sealed envelope containing the author's name and address. As they are received, the manuscript and envelope will be marked, for identification, with the same number. The envelopes will not be opened until the jury of award has made its selections.

No manuscripts will be returned. No postage for the return of manuscripts should therefore be included by the sender.

All manuscripts must be received at the office of the American Peace Award by 12 o'clock midnight, on November 15, 1923. Manuscripts received after that time cannot be considered.

It is expected that the jury will be able to announce the selection of a plan for the first part of the award in time for the plan to be presented to the senate early in 1924.

The submission of any manuscript, whether or not it receives an Award, shall give to the committee full rights to publish the same in such manner and at such time as it may choose.

Working in direct cooperation with the policy committee of the American Peace Award, are the most prominent and effective organizations, civic, religious and economic, throughout the United States.

A cooperating council has been formed for the American Peace award, consisting of one delegate from each of these organizations.

It is expected that the personnel of the jury of award will be announced as soon after September 1 as possible.

The policy committee of the American Peace Award consists of the following members.

John W. Davis, former ambassador to Great Britain, now president of the American Bar association.

Learned Hand, judge of the United States court for the southern district of New York since 1909.

William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists and executive officer of the Conference for Progressive Political Action.

Esther Everett Lape, member in charge, writer.

Nathan L. Miller, former governor of New York state, state controller and judge of the court of appeals, now practicing law in New York city.

Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wife of the governor of Pennsylvania, active in political life and many social welfare movements.

Mrs. Ogden Reid, wife of the publisher of the New York Tribune and vice president of the New York Tribune, Inc.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the former assistant secretary of the navy, who is now head of the American Construction council; vice-chairman of the New York League of Women Voters.

Henry L. Stimson, former secretary of war and United States attorney for the southern district of New York, now a practicing lawyer.

Melville E. Stone, former general manager, now counsellor, of The Associated Press.

Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip, wife of the banker; regional director of the New York League of Women Voters.

Cornelius N. Bliss, Jr., is the treasurer of the policy committee.

Please address all inquiries to: The American Peace Award, 342 Madison avenue, New York City.

THE MYSTERY

Oh, Palmist in your occult prime,
No thing but you can understand,
Come look and take your own good time
At all the lines within my hand.
One question answer me I pray,
If any combination shows,
Just this, and I will richly pay:
Pray tell me where my money goes.

For days I have it figured out
Just how much I shall have and where,
But when I come to look about,
Alas, I find it is not there.
'Tis not in bank or purse or till,
Nor in the pockets of my clothes,
So, Palmist, with your canny skill,
Pray tell me where my money goes.

The days go fast and merrily,
And money follows much the same,
I have a knife, a pipe, a key,
But not a dollar to my name.
'Twas yesterday I had a bill,
But it went on some wind that blows,
So tell me, Palmist, if you will,
Pray tell me where my money goes.

The past is dead, so let it rest,
The future irks me not at all,
Fame, office, honor and the rest
I do not ask you once to call
From my poor palm; I do not care
What else this index of me shows,
But if your eyes can read it there,
Pray tell me where my money goes.

FARRELL LIKES DUNDEE AGAINST CRIQUI

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, July 26 (United Press).—The iron jaw of France and the rubber ball of America will meet at the Polo Grounds tonight to decide the featherweight championship of the world.

Eugene Criqui, with the serious face and the crooked jaw, will defend the title that he won some time ago, with a great victory over the venerable Johnny Kilbane, against Johnny Dundee, one of the greatest little fighters that ever swung a glove.

Dundee, one of those Italians who sent the poets into reveries about the fighting blood of Caesar, will be at least the sentimental favorite. He has a tremendous following in New York and his partisans are not confined to the Italian colony.

Criqui proved in the Kilbane fight that he is a worthy champion and a great fighter. He had proved it before, in Europe, but Americans are skeptical about the class of fighters on the other side who help to give the gallant French war hero of Verdun an impressive list of knockouts.

Dundee is, without doubt, one of the greatest little fighters that ever lived. He has been nearer to various championships than any other fighter, with the possible exception of Charley White. He has battled them all, and in most of his fights he was forced to give away pounds and pounds of weight to his opponents.

Various opinions have been expressed on the outcome of the fight, but there is one that should carry weight because he has met them both and he knows both.

Johnny Kilbane, former featherweight champion, leans toward Dundee as the victor, and he predicts that Criqui will have the fight of his life on his hands.

"Criqui is a great fighter," Kilbane says. "He keeps coming all the time and he is always hitting. He hides behind an upraised shoulder, much after the style of Dempsey, and he is hard to reach on the law. He is not an extremely clever fighter, but he has a heart that keeps him coming back all the time. I had no trouble outboxing him and I found that he was easy to hit.

"However, when I found openings I missed many of them. I had been out of the ring too long and my timing was way off. I was short with punches that I felt sure were going right to the button, and every time I missed I got a good one back. That French boy can counter.

"Against Dundee, Criqui will have a different fight to carry. Dundee hasn't been out of the ring. He is about the 'fightenest' boxer in the business, and when he leads he will not miss like I did. When Criqui cocks his right hand he will not find Dundee standing in the way of it, like he caught me. Dundee has a tricky style, and if he fights his usual fight Criqui may find so many gloves in his face that he cannot set himself for his right-hand punch."

GOLF IN HOME WORRIES LANDLORD

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26 (United Press).—Why does the landlady grow baldheaded and gray? Listen to her tale of woe.

Mrs. Georgia Randolph, apartment owner here, has filed the following complaint in court against Mrs. Harry Smith, a former tenant. (Mrs. Smith had seven children ranging from 24 to 12 years.)

The family played golf, she accuses. Dented walls, broken picture frames, broken chins—an inverted teacup is nice to rest a golf ball on. If you miss the ball, why you hit the teacup—simple, eh? However, she thinks they were really fair golfers—no windows were broken.

The piano stool also was an excellent tee—of course, it occasionally got scraped—but never matter. Somehow, though, the davenport interfered and lost a couple of good legs. Golfing indoors taught the family to be resourceful. They removed, or at least are accused of removing bricks from the dining-room fireplace to serve for the broken davenport legs. Quite serviceable legs—and the fireplace was still useable, although possibly might set the house on fire any time.

And then, nicest yet, some of the family was artistic. A famous and familiar painting of one of the peaks of the Alps, possibly Mt. Blanc, looked sorta lonesome all out in the purpley-tinged hills. Forthwith, this artist painted a playful tourist peeking over the top of the mountain. The tourist is one of the kind you see in school books, drawn by little Eva. Of course, a stranger might not appreciate the addition to the painting, but, now, it really adds life—

Mrs. Randolph surveys the once keen apartment and speaks with tears in her voice, "It wasn't like that when they moved in." She is asking damages to the total of $775.
